

----- Forwarded Message -----

From: "National Association of EMS Physicians (NAEMSP)" <info-NAEMSP@NAEMSP.org>

To: [REDACTED]

Sent: Thu, May 29, 2025 at [REDACTED]

Subject: Did Someone Say... Happy Hour?

Join NAEMSP's Women in EMS and DEI Committee for a virtual EMS Fellowship Panel & Happy Hour

Friday, June 13 at 3:00 PM PT / 6:00 PM ET

Save Me a Seat

NAEMSP's Women in EMS and the DEI committee will be holding a virtual EMS fellowship panel/happy hour 6/13 at 3pm Pacific/6pm Eastern. Whether you're considering EMS fellowship or just curious about the path to becoming an EMS physician, this is your chance to hear directly from current EMS fellows and fellowship faculty. They'll be sharing insights, answering questions, and offering guidance on the fellowship application process.

---

The Panelists:

Rickquel Tripp, MD MPH CDR USN is a nationally recognized expert in addressing provider implicit bias, creating health equity, and building a diverse workforce. She is a dynamic speaker and leader in addition to receiving many awards for her diversity, equity, and inclusion work such as UPMC Award for Commitment and Excellence in Service (ACES) in 2019, the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine Social Justice Educator Award in 2023, Onyx Woman Leadership Award in 2023, YWCA Bridge Builder Award in 2023, Gateway Medical Society Healthcare Policy & Advocacy Champion Award in 2024, and Iota Phi Foundation Exemplary Service Award for Medicine in 2024. As an EMS Medical Director of 4 different agencies, Dr. Tripp has provided subject matter to numerous EMS agencies and organizations regarding health disparities and equity, provider implicit bias and strategies to mitigate bias affecting medical care, and OB/GYN emergencies. She holds MD from Johns Hopkins School of Medicine and MPH from Harvard School of Public Health along with being a Commander in the Navy Reserves.

Lauren Friend, MD is an Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine and Assistant Medical Director for Chicago South EMS System. She serves as core faculty member for the EMS Fellowship at the University of Chicago and graduated from EMS Fellowship from University of California San Francisco in 2024.

Dr. Kari Haley is an EM/EMS physician in St. Paul, Minnesota. She works at Regions Hospital, which is the level 1 trauma center in St. Paul. She is the program director for the EMS fellowship and core faculty in the emergency medicine residency program. Dr. Haley is the medical director for 5 fire-based EMS services in the greater St. Paul area.

Dr. Tiffany Pleasant is an Associate Medical Director of Boston EMS, Associate EMS Fellowship Director of Boston University

School of Medicine EMS Fellowship, and an Attending Physician at Boston Medical Center.

Dr. Joselyn Miller is an EMS fellow at the University of Mississippi Medical Center where she has a special interest in Event Medicine, Education, and Digital Innovation.

Haley Taormina completed her medical training at Mayo Clinic Alix School of Medicine, followed by University of Wisconsin where she was chief resident. Dr. Taormina completed her EMS fellowship at Regions in 2023. She is board certified in both Emergency Medicine and EMS. Currently, she is employed as a clinical faculty member at Regions hospital, serves as an assistant medical director with Regions EMS, and as faculty with the Regions EMS fellowship. She has special interests in EMS education, tactical EMS, sports medicine, and event medicine.

Save Me a Seat

View this email in your browser.

National Press Building

529 14th Street NW, Suite 1280

Washington, DC 20045 USA

Manage your preferences or unsubscribe

